The College of Education has produced award-winning teachers and leaders since its first teacher education classes offered in 1916. Now, our “Best in Class” quality can be shared nationally through our online Master of Education in Literacy. Embedded within a top 25 public university and designed for working professionals like you, the Clemson M.Ed. offers flexibility, specialized skills and practical knowledge to help you take the next step in your career.

What is the M.Ed. Literacy program?

The Clemson M.Ed. Literacy program is a 100% online graduate program for current K-12 educators. The rich, engaging curriculum will prepare you to advance your professional standing as you earn certifications in Literacy Teacher, and either ESOL or Literacy Coach.

How do M.Ed. students learn?

Our students engage in a rigorous curriculum through state-of-the-art online learning. Students complete 36 hours of coursework, in one of three focus strands: Literacy Coaching with certification in Literacy Teacher and Literacy Coach; Literacy ESOL with certification in Literacy Teacher and ESOL; or Literacy Secondary with certification in Literacy Teacher and Literacy Coach.

What do M.Ed. graduates gain?

Our graduates gain the acquisition of in-depth knowledge about literacy research and instruction that transforms their teaching and their students’ literacy development. In addition, our graduates become literacy leaders who are able to support their colleagues in developing effective instructional practices, particularly with learners who are at-risk.
